1. BIOGRAPHY

Born in Rotterdam, The Netherlands - FAIS grew up in an environment constantly surrounded by music. He soon discovers his own series of heroes starting from Stevie Wonder, Ray Charles, Michael Jackson to John Legend and Alicia Keys, and is determined to pursue singing and songwriting as a lifetime career at an early stage in his life.

From a coincidental encounter with Grammy Award-winning producer and DJ, Afrojack, his talents burst to fruition with massive European hits, "Hey" (now over 170 million Spotify streams generated in total and still counting) and "Used To Have It All" (over 30 million Spotify streams generated).

With four songs breaking the Dutch Top 40, FAIS has been awarded the Top 40 "Best New Act", "Most Successful Dutch Act" alongside Afrojack and named "Most Successful Male Singer" of 2018. In the same year, FAIS was awarded the Dutch Buma Award with his single "Know You Better" (close to 40 million Spotify streams generated) as the most played song on Dutch national radio in 2019. Leading up to his performance at ESNS 2019, FAIS has been nominated for the Music Moves Europe Talent Awards 2018, the music prize of the European Commission.

FAIS is also a prolific songwriter with contributions to hit songs such as "Another Life" by Afrojack & David Guetta featuring Ester Dean, RIAA Latin Gold Certified single, "Wave Your Flag" by Luis Fonsi, RIAJ Platinum Certified songs for Japanese superstar ŌMI Tosaka and "LOKO" by Christian Pagán representing Puerto Rico on NBC's first season of the American Song Contest 2022 alongside Desmond Child and a royal court of songwriters and producers. FAIS is constantly in studio sessions writing songs with producers and writers from the team of Max Martin and those behind the hit records of Bruno Mars, The Chainsmokers and many others.
